Hindustani Teaching in Secondary Schools. (11)

Provision has been made in the current year for the teaching of Hindustani in 125 Secondary Schools. Budget provision will doubtless have to be repeated for the next year in regard to these 125 Secondary Schools. Orders have now to be taken as to the extension of the scheme to other Secondary Schools next year. It is presumably unnecessary to treat the addl: provision which will have to be made next year as a Part II Scheme. Finance may however confirm this view before orders are taken in circulation as to the no. of addl. schools in which Hindustani should be introduced in 1939-40.

Please see the Edn and P.H. Department note on page 1 ante. The provision made last year covered the case of all Government secondary schools where no provision is made for teaching the language in addition to grants in aid for 100 other schools ~~urudu~~. The extension of the scheme referred to by Edn. and P.H. will presumably be in respect of secondary schools managed by local bodies or private managements. This would involve payment of new or increased recurring grant-in-aid to such bodies or managements. This number includes 25 Government secondary schools, i.e., all Government secondary schools in which there is no provision for teaching Urdu. Of the other 100 schools, 73 are managed by municipal councils and district boards and the remaining 27 are under private management. Each of the 125 schools has a Hindustani teacher on a pay of Rs. 30 a month. Government meet the full cost of employing such teachers in schools under departmental management and give a grant of one half of the pay of the teacher, not exceeding Rs. 15 a month. in the case of schools under local bodies and private management.

2. It is proposed to extend the scheme of teaching Hindustani in 1939–40 to 100 more secondary schools (44 under private management and 56 under municipal councils and district boards). The amount required for giving the necessary grant on the scale noted above to local bodies and private managements in respect of these 100 schools works out to Rs. 12,000 which this department recommends may be provided in the budget for 1939–40.

NOTE BY THE FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

The proposal may be considered as a Part II Scheme for 1939–40.
